STAT

Thank you for your letter of 19 October 1950 re-stating your desire to assist this Agency in the present national emergency.

I have again discussed your offer with my people here and regret that we are unable to work something definite out at this time. As you can readily understand these requirements are subject to constant change. You are assured that if a suitable opening occurs where your experience and potential can be fully used, I will advise you immediately.

Sincerely yours,
